Leading the Way

This week's program: The Salvation Army: More than the Bell, presented Captain Andy Seiler. Most Kiwanians are familiar with the Salvation Army through our volunteer bell ringing to fill the red kettles during the winter holidays. But our local Salvation Army has a long history of providing many community programs. Capt. Seiler will speak today about programs that are intended to address generational poverty by providing emergency financial assistance for children and families; help for survivors of domestic violence; homelessness, disaster services; and Christian-based programs for youth and families.

Danville Kiwanis Interclub -Thursday, September 7 - Danville Golf Club: Social Hour-5:30 p.m. (Cash Bar); Dinner-6:30p.m.; Cost: $32.00

Invocation 8-16-2017

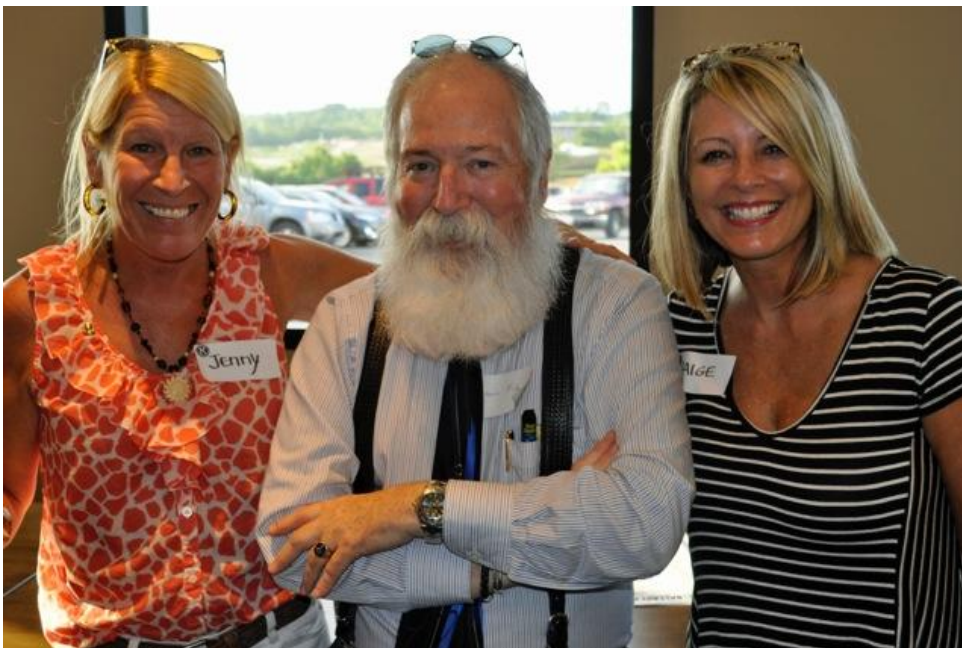

Gracious God,

We invoke your blessing upon this meeting of the Kiwanis club of Roanoke, its members and families, and those among us who are ill or suffering.

In view of recent events in Charlottesville, we ask your guidance as to how to eliminate racism, bigotry and white supremacy from our nation, remind us of the significance of the words we say when we recite the Pledge of Allegiance, and strengthen our resolve to uphold the motto of Kiwanis, "We Build", as we 'lead the way'.

Amen.

Admiral Breakfast - On September 8th at 7:30am, at the Holiday Inn near Tanglewood Mall, our club is hosting a breakfast for US Navy Admiral Jeffrey Jablon, Deputy Director, Plans & Policy, US Strategic Command. Admiral Jablon is a submarine commander, and a graduate of VT and JMU. He will be speaking about the importance of the Navy in our global economy, and there will be plenty of opportunity to ask questions. The cost is $13 and is payable at the door. You must sign-up so we can get an accurate head-count. If you are interested, please sign-up at the next luncheon, or email Mike Leigh at Mike@opxsolutionsllc.com.

Jenny Lee, President of the Botetourt Club Maurice Fisher, and Paige Darby

Autobiography was presented by J. Lee Osborne – Lee was born in Durham, NC in 1953, but grew up in Richmond, VA. He attended Collegiate schools there before moving on to Yale University (1976). After his undergraduate work, Lee received his JD from William and Mary Law School. His first experience of Roanoke was taking the bar exam – we are proud hosts bar exams for the state of Virginia. Lee’s area of expertise is tax law, and he moved to Roanoke to work at the practice of Martin, Hopkins, Lemon, and Carter. In 2009 Lee moved to his current practice, Woods Rogers. He joined Kiwanis Club of Roanoke in 1983 and later served as club president in 1991-92. He currently serves as counsel for the Kiwanis Club of Roanoke Foundation. Lee and his wife, Susan, have three daughters who are very accomplished.

John Montgomery, Jenny Lee, Joyce Montgomery, Lois Larson, Tom Miller, and Mike Quinn enjoyed themselves at Ballast Point last week!

Kiwanis Club of Roanoke First Annual Bocce Ball Tournament September 16, 2017 at Rivers Edge Park

Registration is at 1030am and Play begins at 11am

Two person team cost $100. Ticket includes lunch and 2 drink tickets

No experience needed. Five games guaranteed.

All proceeds go to Kiwanis Roanoke River Greenway Projects

New to bocce . . . a fun family game?

The object of the sport is for a team to get as many of their balls as close to the pallino (smaller ball) as possible. The match begins with the flip of a coin between teams with the winner tossing the smaller ball on to the court.

Then, a team member rolls the first big ball (bocce ball) to get it as close to the small ball as possible. The other team follows . . . trying to get their balls closer to the smaller ball than their opponents.

When all balls have been played, one team is awarded one point for each bocce ball closer to the pallino than the opposing team. The other team scores no points.

The team that scores in one frame starts the next frame by throwing out the pallino and playing the first bocce ball. The game is won by the first team scoring 9 points. The game ends when the 9th point is scored and the other team has played all four bocce balls.

A fun day with Beer, Food Trucks & Music! Supports the Roanoke River Greenway!

Limited to 50 teams . . . sign up early.
